

Note that after the process, the 'component 2' spectrogram shows the formant without so much harmonics.

It partly separates harmonics from formants so that the formants can be more easily observed.

Component 2, STFT with 512-point window

